Refrigerant leakage contributes to climate change. Refrigerant with lower global warming potential (GWP) would contribute less to global warming than a refrigerant with higher GWP, if leaked to the atmosphere.

It has become apparent that some of PH 534 portable air conditioners have a production defect. In some of the units a power cable is not connected correctly.

Under specific circumstances this can cause a short circuit in the appliance and in extreme situations, mainly due to the use of an ungrounded connection, even a flame which can melt plastic parts causing dense smoke.

If you own this product, unplug it and stop using the unit immediately. Take a picture of the rating label and note the serial number. The unit should then be stored in a well-ventilated room with a minimal floor surface of at least 4m<sup>2</sup> and kept from any source of fire or sparks.

Then contact PVG Holding BV by calling +31 (0) 412 694 694 or send an email to aftersales@pvg.eu and register your product. Then, we are able to inspect your unit and, when necessary, repair it.

Due to limitations because of the COVID-19 outbreak we might be more difficult to reach, or our reaction might take more time than that you are used to from us. Please accept our sincere apologies for any inconvenience caused.
